It is the damands for help from the homeless, and a committee is at work seeking aid. Already $1000 has been subscribed toward a charity fund. The part of the city which stood on the hillside is the portion that suffered from the storm. Medical assistance was sent here last night. The following is a partial list of HOUSES DEMOLISHED or damaged: Houses occupied by J. R. Graham, J. W. Nance, G. R. Gwinn, C. S. Voorhees, C. S. Justice, J. W. Gaddis, Mrs. M. A. Taylor. W. I. Rudd, D. Stubblefield, Mrs. R. S. Fostyr, R. L. Anthony, E. Sublette, W. C. Bones.

The city today presents a dreary aspect, but under the circumstances the citizens bear their burdens nobly. The work of helping the destitute and homeless goes forward. Many farmers whose lands adjoin the city have come forward and offered sheiter and homes to those who have lost their all. The storm was the most destructive which has visited this section of the country.

RAZED TO THE GROUND. St. Louis, Jan. 13.—A special to the Post-Dispatch says: For several miles ground Clinton nearly everything is razed around Clinton nearly everything is razed to the ground. The first building struck was a section house, about haif a mile from town, and which was occupied by John Rhodes and his family, consisting of his wife and three children, all of whom were killed. The population of the town is about 1000, and at first it was feared that 100 had been killed, but the list was found to be comparatively small, only 11 bodies so far having been found.

Small houses were lifted bodily from the ground and whirled around in the air, dropping to the ground with a terrific crash, and being literally smashed into kindling wood. Flying timber filled the air, and the crash of falling buildings was mingled with the shricks of people fleeing from their wood. Flying timber filled the air, and the crash of falling buildings was mingled with the shrieks of people fleeing from their ruined homes. The path of the tornado was about 300 yards wide, as shown by the débris. The loss to the property is estimated at $70,000.

Two messengers from the scene of the disaster report that eight of the wounded are so seriously injured that they are not likely to live.

At Wickliff, Ky., 13 of the principal business houses were wrecked, and 23 people were more or less hurt.

A special to the Post-Dispatch from Jackson, Tenn., says that the cyclone visited Moscow, Ky., and that two persons were killed and four or five wounded at that place.

Half a dozen other residences were partly unroofed. The Methodist Church was moved from its foundation. The cupola and roof were torn from it, and its chandeliers were found several hundred yards distant. Dispatches from many points in Texas report damage by storm.

The Gale in Ohio.

CLEVELAND (O.), Jan. 13.—The wind reached a velocity of 45 miles an hour here last night, and the temperature dropped from 60° to below the freezing point. Telephone and telegraph communication were interrupted during the forenoon. Roofs were torn off two school buildings, trees were blown down and signs carried away, but no one was injured. Reports from adjacent towns show that the wind swept pretty much all Northern Ohio, but did no serious damage to property.

THE ST. LOUIS TORNADO. Scenes and Incidents During the

St. Louis, Jan. 13.—[By the Associated Press.] There were four families in the three-story building at 101 South Twentieth street yesterday afternoon when the roof was lifted off by the passing tornado. In

As the wind tore away the roof the terror of the children was pitiful, and it was long before the neighbors could calm them. No one was hurt in the building.

William Brady was passing the corner of Fifteenth and Morgan streets when the tornado struck, and toppled the spire of the Emanuel Church. A fragment of brick struck him on the head, feiling him to the pavement. His scalp was torn and his skull fractured.

Benjamin Veerfield ran to the doorway of the St. Louis Manufacturing Company's works for shelter when the storm arose. The wind drove directly upon this door and succeeded in bursting its fastenings. Veerfield was thrown down a stairway into the basement by the wind. He was injured, internally and his right leg was broken below the knee.

Suddenly the house collapsed and all were buried in the ruins. Neighbors came to their assistance and all were taken out alive and but slightly hurt. There was ferrible excitement at the Natatorium during the storm. Between 500 and 600 girts and men were there dancing, as is usual on Sunday afternoon. death or injury is a miracle. Col. Thomas is anys the train had left the station and proceeded as far northward along the riverfront as Knapp street and the company's lumber yards, when the water poured down in such quantities that no one could see outside the coaches. Slowly the train proceeded, and when everything looked darkest suddenly there was a smashing of glass that rose above the din, and inch planks came shooting into the coach windows on one side and went out at the other, as if they had been fired from a huge cannon. What few passengers were in the passenger coach crouched down close to the floor, and the lumber went flying over their heads. The storm of planks and wood was so heavy that it crashed every pane of glass in the second coach, and the wind jammed it in a pile on the track, between the trucks, stopping the cars stood until the storm abated, when the train crew got out and cleared the road-

The south wall of the Joselyn block was blown down, failing on and crushing a frame building next noor. No one was injured. There were many narrow escapes.

The Featherweights Fight to a Finish.

The Belfast Spider Knocked Out by the Anstralian.

Fourteen Hard Rounds Required to Determine the Result. The Spider Has the Best of It Up to the Thirteenth Round-

Wind.

By Telegraph to The Times. SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 13 — By the Associated Press. A fight to a finish between Ike Weir, the "Berfast Spider," featherweight champion of the world, and Billy Murphy, feather-weight champion of Australia, for a purse of $2250, took place at the California Athletic Club tonight. Before the fight President Fulda announced that John L. Sullivan had agreed with an ac-

In the fifth round the men fought each other from corner to corner, Murphy avoiding Weir's rushes whenever possible. Weir's antice and clever fighting created nuch amagnant.

Weir's antics and clever fighting created much amusement.

In the sixth-round Weir landed a smashing right-hunder on the Australian's ribs, and after some by-play received a staggerer on the right jaw that nearly floored him.

In the seventh round Weir got a light tip on the nose that brought a trace of blood. Murphy landed heavily on Weir's ribs.

In the eighth round Weir was brought to the floor by a right-hander on the neck as the stipped. Murphy was nearly knocked out by a right-hander while fighting furiously.

out of a right-hander water lighting tur-ously. In the ninth Weir again fell while tap-ping Murphy lightly on the breast. Mur-phy tried to pen the "Spider" in his corner, but the latter evaded him each time, and Murphy would go spinning accound the ring. He appeared sed and uncomfortable, while the "Spider" was still cool and conf-dent.

From the ninth to the twelfth round little effective fighting was done.

In the fourteenth round, both men, apparently too groggy to stand, came prup for the last time. It was a short Murphy again led. Weir countered, a second received another blow the nim down and decided his fate. He win agony for 10 seconds, and when hat the call of time he was holding his property of the last the last of the last in agony for time he was holding his right wrist painfully with his left claiming to have broken it.

Murphy, though showing more signs of punishment than Weir and at one time nearly knocked out, freshened wonderfully in the last round and jumped lightly from the ring at the end of the fight.

Weir was soon in his dressing-room after the fight, and though in considerable pain showed little outward signs of punishment beyond a swollen wrist and lips. The hand which was believed to be broken sustained nothing more serious than a sprain. Helest the fight beyond the statement (in which President Fulda concurs) that he received a blow in the wind in the thirteenth round that sickened him soft as the less this ability to withstand Murphy's blows on the head.

"On last Saturday Mr. McLain, chairman of the Bridge Committee, and myself had a conference with Mr. Wade and Judge Brunson of the Santa

Fé Railroad Company relative to the payment to the city by said railroad company of the amount of damage caused to the Buena Vista-street bridge by the carrying away by high water of one span or the railroad bridge. Mr. McLain and myself presented our claims and were met with the statement by the railroad company that this damage was not caused by any weakdamage was not caused by any wear-ness of their bridge, but was caused by the erection by the Southern Pacific Railroad Company of a pile bridge, which caused a large amount of débris to accumulate, which caused

They also expressed doubts as to whether the carrying away of their bridge caused any damage to the Buena Vista-street bridge, and seemed to be of the opinion that the settling of the pier was caused by the washing out of the sand from under the foundation. The Mayor sent in the following communication:

To the Honorable City Council: In the matter of the application of C. M. Hayden to change lots with the city, I would say that the exchange would be an unequal one so far as the city is concerned. The land belonging to the city has a large frontage, and the land the city is to acquire in lieu thereof has none, and if the ground taken to form the street fronting the city lots were taken into consideration in computing the area, which should be done to the center of the street, it would be found that the city would give 7250 square feet for 4412, which it would get in exchange. But this unequal trade is not the worst part of it. The lot contains a large and very valuable gravel bed, needed in that particular local-cality to repair the streets. Thinking there must be some reason whythe city should exchange property having a large frontage for property having none, and that the ground to be acquired by the exchange must have some particular value to the city to induce it to exchange, I inquired of the Deputy Street Superntendent, Hampton Hutton, and he informs me that the ground now belonging to the city, "woing to the fine gravel deposit thereon is worth thousands of dollars to the city," to use his own language, and the city should by no means make the exchange, as the city teams at present engaged in using the gravel in repairing the streets in the vicinity damaged by the late storms will need to obtain gravel therefrom.

I therefore return the deed of the city to Hayden to your honorable body unsigned.

The report was received, but no action taken on the request of the Street Superintendent for an order.

Councilman Bonsall called up the matter of gutter bridges, and said that from the press he sees that the Street Superintendent is raising a perfect cyclone of protests from citizens in regard to the removal of bridges across the gutters. He contended that the bridges are not an obstruction. A system of cross-walks is in operation, and if the bridges are an obstruction the cross-walks will all have to come up. He offered a resolution declaring gutter bridges and cross-walks not obstructions, and that the Street Superintendent be notified accordingly.

President Frankenfield thought the action of the Street Superintendent in the matter is right, and wherever there is a considerable flow of water on a street the obstruction should be removed. He opposed the resolution.

Councilman Bonsall said it is a poor policy for the Council to be putting down cross-walks itself and make individuals remove gutter bridges.

President Frankenfield contended that a cross-walk is a different thing.

To the Honorable City Council: In the matter of the application of C. M. Hayden to change lots with the city, I would say that the exchange would be an unequal one so far as the city is concerned. The land belonging to the city has a large frontage, and the land the city is to acquire in lieu thereof has none, and if the ground taken to form the street fronting—the city lots were taken into consideration in computing the area, which should be done to the center of the street, it would be found that Councilman Wirsching said that there had been no plans, and therefore there were no extras. He thought that the matter should be referred to another committee.

Councilman Hamilton said that he would favor a proposition of that character, as did also President Frankenfield and Councilman Wirsching.

At this point there was a slight delay while the Clerk went after the minutes of the last session of the committee, and on his return they were read and approved.

Councilman Shafer then moved that the City Attorney present ordinances today providing for elections on the sewer system, as three propositions, as outlined in his previous remarks.

Councilman Brown seconded the motion, which was carried by a unanimous vote of those present.

The matter of paving Temple street was then taken up, and Mr. Wood, on behalf of the cable road, addressed the Council at some length in favor of granting his company the privilege of paving between its tracks and two feet on either side with granite blocks, in stead of bituminous lime rock, as has been decided upon for the street pavement.

Councilman Brown had introduced Mr. Mc-Lean to him and said he was a trustworthy man and could be relied on. He thought the work could be done for considerably less than $3300, but did not think it could be done for $1650. He had only purchased some of the iron work for the cells. Yesterday morning the Tribune, commonly called the Trombone, stated positively that Reel B. Terry, late candidate for Congress from the Sixth Congressional District, on the 20th of October, 1888, paid to Col. H. G. Otis in his private office in the Times Building in this city $200 in

In regard to this lie out of whole cloth Mr. Terry sent the following dispatch to Col. Otis yesterday:

Terry, Bourbon candidate for Congress, on the Trombone gang, as it was given out in a quiet kind of way that One-doilar Boyce, Castor-oil Eastman and Feeble-minded Payne were to be roasted alive by Mr. Terry. It is an open secret that the Democratic candidate is especially bitter against the Trombone crowd on account of what he considers its unfair course toward him.

The meeting was called to order by Chairman Germain of the County Central Committee, and Hon. R. F. dei Valle was announced as chairman of the meeting. Mr. del Valle, on taking the chair, stated that he would not take up the time of the audience, but would proceed to business by introducing Mr. Terry.

Mr. Terry is a young man of the spreadeagle type, who has a ready tongue in his mouth, and is chock full of ready wit, which seems to capture the unwashed. He spoke two hours, and kept his audience in a good humor all through; but he did not make many votes, for the reason that his arguments are not sound.

BLACKMAILER BOYCE.

Yesterday was the day set in Judge McKinley's court for H. H. Boyce, director-general of the Tribune, to plead guilty or not guilty to the charge of blackmailing Justice Theodore Sav-age out of $50. He did not plead, howage out of $50. He did not plead, however, the policy of delay still being followed by him. He was present in court, and wore a broad smile occasionally. His counsel moved to set aside the indictment against the defendant, stating his grounds and filing an affidavit sworn to by "Mr." Boyce. The affidavit was not signed when filed, but that error was probably rectified afterwards. It sets forth the following grounds why "Mr." Boyce wishes to have the indictment set aside and not let the case go to trial on its merits:

and not let the case go to trial on its merits:

First—The indictment was not found, indorsed and presented as prescribed in the Penal Code.

Second—W. H. Spurgeon, O. P. Chubb, Joseph Beach and W. I.Brown, members of the Grand Jūry, were present when the indictment was found, and did not possess the legal qualifications to be jurors.

Third—Jesse Hardesty, Deputy District Attorney, and Frank P. Kelly, District Attorney, were present during the expression or opinions and the voting upon the indictment by the Grand Jurors.

Jurors.

Fourth—W.C. Furrey, J. M. Hale and Thomas Goss had a state of mind at the time, by reason of prejudice against the defendant, being his enemies, that prevented them from being impartial.

On account of these various grounds the defendant asks that the Grand Jurors be cited to appear before the Court and testify as to the matters alleged. Judge McKinley set Friday, January 17th, at 10 o'clock a.m., for the defendant to plead and for the examination of the Grand Jury.

The Former Wants the Grand Jury Cited to Appear and the Latter Moves to Set Aside the Indictment—A Demurrer in the Engel Case.

When Judge Cheney convened court in Department No. 1 of the Superior Court yesterday morning, Carl Browne, and his counsel, J. Marion Brooks, Esq., were present, and Browne presented his usual picturesque appearance in cowboy costume.

He was arraigned upon the indictment against him, charging bim with extortion, and gave his true name as Carl Browne.

His counsel, Mr. Brooks, upon being Comes of amiliar, the disqualification of the Grand Jury, and other matters. There were some fresh points advanced, applicable particularly to the sole indictment now remaining against the ex-Auditor, which charges him with presenting a fraudulent claim while Auditor. Mr. White, in demurring to it, held that it is faulty, in that it sets forth that more than one offense is charged; that it contains no statement of the particularly constituting the fraudulent act; that there is nothing to show that the claim was in fact fraudulent; or of what its fraudulent tent nature consists, or how the county of Los Angeles could have been effected thereby. Mr. White stated that the Court had had but one chance to render a decision in any of the six indictments which had been found against Montaño; that as soon as the defense made a point the District Attorney would hurry off to the Grand Jury and bring in a fresh indictment, and dismiss the old one.

Assistant District Attorney Mc-Comas made a brief argument against Assistant District Attorney Mc His counsel, Mr. Brooks, upon being asked what time he wanted for pleading to the charge, said that he wanted time enough to get the Grand Jury be submitted without argument.

The Court fixed Wednesday for the time to plead, and Mr. Brooks intimated that he would be ready at that time, if he could get the Grand Jury present, otherwise he would probably ask for a day or two further time.

The defendant then gave bail in the sum of $1500, his sureties being D. A. Moriarty and Heigh Smith, and he was released from custody. Following is the text of the indictment returned against Carl Browne:

THE Boston Journal has the following to say regarding the appointment of postmasters:

There is no reason why some plan should not be hit upon for the selection of postmasters. A majority of all Congressmen who have had experience will admit that such patronage is an injury to them, and not a benefit. To elect a postmaster by popular vote is objectionable when the vote is small, but with a full vote it would be significant. Make it an imperative condition that the total vote shall reach 70 or 80 per cent. of the total number of legal voters, in default of which the Congressmen may nominate, and it will at least be a step in the right direction.

DESPERATE FOLLY.

The desperate and despicable man who claims to own what there is yet to own of that blackmailing sheet, the Tribune, yesterday printed another 4 per cent. on a capital of eight millions baseless and absurd lie regarding the gold. editor of THE TIMES.

The Tribune stated that Reel B. Terry, when a candidate for Congress, paid to Col. Otis $200 for the publica tion of a speech of Terry's in full in THE TIMES.

Yesterday Mr. Terry sent the following dispatch to Col. Otis:

FRESNO (Cal.), Jan. 13, 1890.

To Col. H. G. Otis, Editor Times, Los Angeles: I never at any time paid you, or any one on your behalf, or The Times, or any one in its behalf, any sum of money whatever. In another column will be found a reproduction of that portion-a small portion-of Mr. Terry's speech, which was published by THE TIMES.

The desperate recklessness of the man who will publish a lie like this may be realized when it is remembered that a denial was obtainable, within s few hours, from the person who was said to have paid the money. Such insane folly can only be compared to the wild ravings of a criminal, who is at length cornered by the emissaries of the law, and, in his savage desperation, endeavors to do all the damage he can before he meets his fate.

Boyce, the indicted blackmailer, the manager of a moribund organ, is like a rat whose last retreat is cut off, and which, foreseeing immediate dissolution, bites savagely at everything within reach. He knows that the days of his venal organ are numbered, and is determined to use it, while there is yet time, to vent his venom upon those he hates, because they have brown the calcium light of truth upon his despicable and worthless char

His latest foolish charge has thus been promptly disproved. The previous one, concocted in the Tribune office, and sworn to by J. W. THE PATRONAGE HABIT.

Criticisms of the evils of office-seeking are becoming very numerous among the outspoken and independent jourhals of the country. One of the most forcible comments upon the bad effects of the patronage habit that we have seen recently is the following, from the St. Paul Pioneer Press:

The tenth is that the patronage habit has strong points of resemblance to the drink habit, or the opium habit. The man who indulges in it knows that he has no business to do so; knows that it is bad for him, bad for those whom he is seeking to benefit, had for those whom he is seeking to benefit, bad for the community at large. He knows, unless he be the most pittful of creatures, that he would be immeasurably stronger in himself and before the people if he were to swear off from trying to distribute the spoils. He knows that the whole thing is demoralizing; that the Administration has no business to grant him what he saks; that the more offices he has to bestow the more is his life made a burden, and the greater is the number of his enemies. He finds that his shubs and reverses all come to him from this artificial and unnecessary side of his public life. And he is conscious, if he is a man of any intelligence or rectitude of purpose, that his real business as a member of Congress is interfered with and negatived by the demands made upon him for office and the effort he must make to satisfy them. Yet, like the drunkard whose soul yearns for the morning cocktail, he lacks courage to do the manly thing and the right thing, and freis his usefulness away in beating against the bars of the cage that he has and frets his usefulness away in beating against the bars of the cage that he has built for his own confinement. It is the consciousness of this new obligation, of its degrading sacrifices, of its unsatisfying successes, of the whole stupid and mortifying business of being simply the boss office-seeker, that humiliates and wearies the Congressman in his first appearance upon seeker, that humiliates and wearies the Congressman in his first appearance upon the scene of action. This is the true explanation of the disgust that a first experience at Washington so frequently inspires. The pity of it is that there are so few who are capable of understanding the cause of their unpleasant awakening, and of rising to the high and proper conception of their duty to themselves and to the people.

The rearranging of the stars in the national banner made necessary by the addition of four new States is engaging the attention of both the Navy and War Departments. A joint committee has been appointed by Secretaries Proctor and Tracy to confer upon this matter, and also to recommend uniformity in national salutes. The Navy Department has substantially adopted a device for the reorganized flag, which arranges the stars in six rows of seven stars in each row. It is thought that the War Department will adopt a similar plan. With regard to salutes, the navy regulations, as at present constituted, call for a salute of twenty-one guns on national occasions. The War Department's custom is to fire a gun for every State, which, with the present number of States, takes just

In the matter of encouraging foreign commerce, the Argentine Republic sense than does this country. That government desiring rapid and regular communication with Europe, has approved five or six schemes for establishing new steamship lines within a year. Including one which is to receive a 6

AT the Council meeting yesterday the preliminary ordinances declaring the necessity for sewers were passed There are to be three separate and outfall. This will be an expensive plan, but it is claimed to be necessary. What we have desired to see was the submission of the three propositions separately, but upon the same ballot and upon the same election day, feeling confident that by this plan the interior system of sewers and the storm drains would carry and the outfall be defeated. However, it is at least something gained, that the citizens will have a chance to vote separately on show the struggle between knowledge and industry on the one side and ignorance and idleness on the other, the one side being protected by the fairy queen "Progresa" (Bessie Cleveland), and the other cham-pioned by "Anarchis" (Ray Allen). theory takes a boy under her wing, the "Spider" representing the industrious youth and the "Fly" the idle boy.

The allegory gets a good deal mixed in the concluding scene where the spider is personated by a seductive young woman who entangles in her golden web a silly youth. This discrepancy is of no consequence, as after the proloque there is no more attempt to keep any coherent idea of a plot or even the bare semblance of a story. There is a pantonium scene of the oldniore attempt to keep any coherent idea of a plot or even the bare semblance of a story. There is a pantomime scene of the old-fashioned kind where everybody gets upset or slapped and the characters fall over one another in wild confusion, and the curain goes down on a regular pantomime rally. There is the usual Irish policeman, with red whiskers, who sings the popular ballad about the misfortunes of the late lamented McGinty. There is a horizontal bar performance, very clever, but too long, by the brothers Dare, and a stilt dance and a skirt dance and a Margonian march by derstands the art of the variety actress and succeeds in bringing down the house.

The affair is redeemed, to some extent, by some good scenic effects, and a great deal more by some good singing by Hilda Thomas and Bessie Cleveland. Their duet at the beginning of the last act was charmingly sung and deservedly encored. Hilda Thomas has a cultivated voice of considerable range and power, a little metallic in the upper register, but she thoroughly understands the art of the variety actress and succeeds in bringing down the house.

Bessie Claveland is a very pretty young lady, and plays her fairy-like part with a great deal of ease, and as much intelligence as it demands. Her voice is sweet and sympathetic, and her selections were redemanded with much emphasis. Her graceful appearance and acting had much to do with the success of the scenes in which she took part. As a minor matter of comment it may be suggested that her pronunciation of the words "dynamite" and "progress" should be altered to accord with the correct usage.

should be altered to account that usage.

The transformation scene at the finish was a highly successful close to a very indifferent and pointless piece, which seemed, nevertheless, to give a good deal of pleasure to the large audience present. It will be repeated the balance of the week.

A SANTA BARBARA OPINION. (San'a Barbara Pross, Jan. 12.)

Col. Otis's reply has not yet been seen, but there must be some satisfactory explanation. Col. Otis is well known in Santa Barbara, and however belligerent he may be as a newspaper man, he has always been known as strictly honest and honorable.

convicted of crime instead of distranchising them in advance.

Delegate Du Bois of Idaho replied to Mr. Wilson in a long statement reciting the history of the Mormon Church, and quoting from judicial decisions in Idaho to sustain his assertion that it was a criminal conspiracy. He said it was necessary to disfranchise the Mormons in a body in order to destroy their political power, which keeps them together. Conviction of bigamy or polygamy is a difficult matter, and when successful does not affect the convict, Mr. Du Bois said, because six months in the penitentiary has no effect on him. The only way to reach the Mormon Church, Mr. Du Bois asserted, is to deprive it of its political powers, and this the Constitution of Idaho, adopted with only 1700 dissenting votes, does.

SOME NEW BILLS. Senator Plumb's Plan Regarding the

Seal Fisheries Washington, Jan. 13.—[By the Associated Press.] Senater Plumb today introduced a bill to repeal so much of the act of July, 1870, as authorizes the leasing of rights to engage in taking fur seals from usual "topical" song, the escape from which infliction was an occasion for gratitude.

As an attraction the piece is entirely destitute of any pretensions to literary merit, and, indeed, the adapters seen to have tried how far they could test the patience of a long-suffering public: some of the acts, especially the so-called "duel scene," being clumsy and inane beyond description. As pantominists the two clowns are far, from being successful.

The bill also requires the Secretary to promulgate requisitions prohibiting the taking and killing of seats or other furbearing animals by any but natives and prescribing the number to be taken each year. The bill proposes to continue all other restrictions now in force, but provides that all skins taken hereafter shall be transported annually to San Francisco, to be sold there in open market to the highest bidder. All money derived from these sales is to be paid into the Treasury and set apart for the education of the natives of Alaska. Dunnell introduced a similar bill in the House.

Representative Stowart of Vermont teday introduced in the times bill isolaring that no Mormon shall be eligible to vote at any election, or held civil office in the Territories of the United States, or settle upon any public lands. Voters are required to make oath that they do not belong to the Mormon Church as a preliminary to exercising the right of suffrage.

A REASONABLE VIEW OF THE CASE.

[Santa Ana Blade, Jan. 12.]

There is a piece of circumstantial testimony [evidence] which must go far to exculpate Col. Otis. He had frequently complimented Green on his management of the Los Angeles post-office, but at no time was he so fervid and diffusive in his praise of Green the spoke of the preference shown the Alaska company, and said a certain the columns of the Casen. morning a party of masked men broke open sto be taken during the first year, if not extraordinary, opened up a wide field of conjecture. He spoke of the preference shown the Alaska company, and said a certain Louis Goldstone had made a higher bid, and had also offered to pay $2.02½ a akin more than the Alaska Commercial Company, and 50 cents a gallon for all seal oil extracted. The Alaska Commercial Company assumed that offer for itself, got the lease and agreed to pay $25,000 per annum during the entire term of the contract, to pay $2.6.2½ per skin for all skins it would take, and to pay $5 cents per gallon for all oil. The first year the department, instead of exacting the payment of $65,000, accepted $25,000, and remitted the remainder of the payment. He said that more than two-thirds, or perhaps three-fourths, of all seals taken in the world were taken from the Alaskan islands and vicinity. These seal skins were sold at public auction in London in a raw state at an average of about $19 aplece.

One hundred thousand skins at $19 aplece amounted to $1,000,000. He went back in his statement to mention the fact that in the operation of the lease the Treasury Department remitted all payments on account of oil, so that not a dollar had been paid during those years on that account. He said Goldstone calculated in making his bid that each seal would produce two gallons of oil, and on that calculated in making his bid that each seal would produce two gallons of oil, and on that calculated in making his bid that each seal would produce two gallons of oil, and on that calculated in making his bid that each seal would produce two gallons of oil, and on that calculated in making his bid that each seal would produce two gallons of oil, and on that calculated in making his bid that each seal would produce two gallons of oil, and on that calculated in making his bid that each seal would produce two gallons of oil, and on that calculated in making his bid that each seal would a bease. But the Treasury Department should get its fair share of the enorment should get the door of the house occupied by Andy Slate, a well-to-do farmer, and pulling him from bed demanded why he disobeyed the orders previously given him to leave the country. He said he had done nothing for which he should leave. Thereupon one of the White Caps fired at him, the ball passlng through his body and inflicting a fata wound. The raiders then went to the house of John Warner, whom they hauled from bed, tied to a tree and gave a whip ping. No cause for the outrage is known. Immigration Matters. WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—W. P. Hepburn, Solicitor of the Treasury, in a report to Secretary Windom giving the results of the ters at the port of New York, expresses the opinion that the present contract with the Board of Immigration should be terminated and the whole supervision of contract labor and immigrant laws placed under the direction of an officer of the Treasary Department, under the Collector of the Port of New York.

trade in fur seals. He had no doubt the profits of the company, had on an average far exceeded $1,000,000 a year, since it had the lease. He would not be surprised if its profits averaged $2,000,000 a year. Congress should do something adequate to the situation and not allow the matter to go on in such a slipshod way.

which it has met with in other countries, and states that the argument that it would be a hardship to illiterate voters is substantially answered.

On the question of cheaper school books the Governor says: "Popular education is the foundation of freedom and prosperity. Knowledge should be furnished at the lowest possible cost. The State builds school houses, provides teachers and controls every detail of education, save the furnishing of books. Is there any sound reason why it should not assume this function also?" He favors the abolition of the office of Commissioner of Railroads and Telegraphs, and thinks the duties could be better performed by a railroad commission, provided there is any necessity for State supervision of railroads.

When Bishop Dumont, for some offense or other, was suspended by Bishop Durroussian, the new prelate managed the money, for which suit was brought, and intrusted it to the care of Canon Barnard, a priest of the diocese, and the latter ran away with it to this country.

New York, Jan. 13.—Judge Hare, in the Court of Common Pleas this morning, read a lengthy opinion refusing to grant the injunction asked for by Evin & Shelmerdine against the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company, the object of which was to postpone the annual election of officers, which is to be held today, and to do away with voting trust of that company altogether. The Court only decides it will not rant the preliminary injunction asked for, but it does not decide any other question of law raised by the bills filed.

After waiting a considerable time and seeing no prospect of the company beginning work, she asked Williams to give her back her money, when he put her off on one pretext and another for several on one pretext and another for several weeks, and finally came out and told her that he had spent the money, and could not make it good. After this, she says, Williams left the country, and is now living, she understands, in Denver. Mrs. Anderson showed Chief Glass the written guarantee, but the Chief could do nothing for her as her only recourse would be a civil suit. THE appeals for liberality in educational matters, last night, at Williams's Hall, spoke well for Pasadena. We must not go backward, and we do not propose to was the watchword.

THE taxpayers of this district are offered a library all finished, except the interior, for $8500—the cost was $23,000—and books valued at $3000. Can you afford to vote against it? You must decide today.

THE Public Library building on Raymond avenue is convenient to the Wilson school, where the children can consult the books. The school trustees consider this a most important feature, and the library an adjunct to the public-school system.

THE invalids and health-seekers who ome here have rights which we should rve. The free reading room, the collection of books, renders their stay with us, away from home and is, pleasant and enables them to pass many hours pleasantly.

THE president of the First National Bank, the Hon. P. M. Green, favors the passing of the bonds. The presidant of the San Gabriel Valley Bank, Judge Magee, favors voting the bonds. Can you doubt that these men, who feel the financial pulse of the city, can make a mistake?

THE mass-meeting of citizens last night was a speaking tribute to the intelligence of Pasadena. All the objec-tions to the library scheme were fully met, and the almost unanimous opinion was that Pasadena should have the beautiful building almost given away by Mr. Legge, and that the bonds should be voted. CATARRH and CONSUMPTION, etc., are now conceded by all scientific investigators to originate from a living germ or parasite so small as to be invisible, except when placed under a powerful nijeroscope. Our botair med cated inhalations absolutely kill and destroy every living germ millions of which are found floating in the excectoration, or after the death of the patient found imbided in the mucous surface lining the air passages, while our compound caygen autagonizes and thoroughly removes every poison of the system from the Blood, no matter from what cause it exists or how long it has continued, and is efficacious in the cure of Catarrh, throat Diseases, asthma Bronchitts, Consumption, Nervous Prostration, Insolmia and Dyspepsia, etc., together with any poisoned condition of the blood. In all cases of catarrh and other diseases of the Respiratory Organs, where the system suffers from the deleterious effects of scoroula or other vittated condition of the blood, local treatment is invariably conjoined with consistutiona remedies.
